Expressing a Concern; Notes for Parents

If you have a concern

We would like you to tell us about it so that we can talk with you and see how best to deal with your concern. We welcome suggestions for improving our work in the school.

Whatever your concern, please know that we shall treat it as being strictly confidential.

Be assured that no matter what you want to share with us, our support and respect for you and your child in the school will not be affected in any way.

Please do not delay telling us of your concern. It is difficult for us to investigate properly an incident or problem which is more than a day or two old.

After hearing your concern, we shall act as quickly as we can. Please allow time for any action we take to be effective.

What to do first

Please contact your child's class teacher and arrange a time when you can discuss your concern.

It may be possible for you to see the teacher straight away but usually it is better to make an appointment so that you can sit and talk things through.

What to do next

If you are still unhappy, ask for an appointment with the Headteacher. It is helpful if you can give a brief outline of your concern when you make the appointment.

After your discussion with the Headteacher you may have to wait a short time while investigations are carried out.

Every effort will be made to resolve the situation as quickly as possible and the Headteacher will arrange to meet with you to discuss the outcomes of her investigation.

If you are still unhappy

The problem will normally be solved by this stage. However, if you are still not satisfied you may wish to write to the Headteacher setting out your complaint. The Headteacher or designated member of staff will investigate your complaint and send you a written response within 5 school days.

If after this you are still unhappy

It is hoped by this stage you're your complaint will be sorted out to your satisfaction. If you are still not satisfied, you may wish to write to the Chair of the governing body, Alister Bould. The Chair of the governing body will probably discuss the matter with the Headteacher and may arrange for a further investigation. He will then write to you to say what he has decided to do in response to your complaint.

Further Action

Finally if the complaint still has not been resolved, you may ask for your complaint to be heard by the Complaints Committee of the governing body.

The Complaints Committee would listen to you, to the Headteacher and others involved and come to a decision. The Committee's decision is final.

The different stages in the school's Complaints Procedure are summarised and can be obtained from the school office.

Complaints Policy

This policy should be read in conjunction of Parental Complaints: A guide for schools in the Dioceses of London and Southwark (2007).

From time to time parents, and others connected with the school, will become aware of matters which cause them concern. To encourage resolution of such situations the governing body has adopted a complaints procedure. The governors will involve parents and staff in drafting and regularly reviewing the policy and procedure for complaints, to ensure that the whole school community understand the procedure. The procedure is devised with the intention that it will:

- Usually be possible to resolve problems by informal means;
- Be simple to use and understand;
- Be non-adversarial;
- Treat complaints confidentially;
- Allow problems to be handled swiftly;
- Address all points at issue;
- Inform future practice so that the problem is unlikely to reoccur;
- Reaffirm the partnership between parents, staff and governors as they work together for the good of the pupils in the school;
- Make clear the times set aside daily/weekly when staff are available for discussion with parents;
- Ensure that the school's attitude to a pupil would never be affected by a parental complaint;
- Discourage anonymous complaints;
- Actively encourage strong home-school links;
- Ensure that all staff have opportunities to discuss and understand the school's response to concerns and complaints made by parents;
- Ensure that any person complained against has equal rights with the person making the complaint;
- Regularly review its system for monitoring concerns and complaints received from parents.

Full details of the procedure may be obtained from the school office or from the clerk of the Governing Body.
